What do you like most about the neighborhood?

The central location, historic architecture, eclectic inhabitants, and great living spaces are my favorite parts of the neighborhood.

What do you think needs improvement in the neighborhood?

Overall, the neighborhood is in need of improvements to cleanliness and safety. We are also lacking any public, green spaces at this time, which I hope will change with the development of the rail park.

Tell us a little about yourself—how long have you lived in the neighborhood and why would you make a good board member:

I have been a homeowner in the neighborhood for three years, and have lived in downtown Philadelphia for a decade. I have a background in operations management and marketing, and earned an MBA from Drexel University. I currently am the operations lead for my department within a large, international health services organization, where I have worked for eight years.

I attend as many neighborhood meetings as I can to stay involved, and have reached out to local organizations, such as Asian Arts Initiative and Sunday Breakfast Rescue Mission, to learn more about what they do. I feel personally invested in the future of Callowhill. and I would like to continue to see it grow and thrive.
