What do you like most about the neighborhood?

The diversity. I also like its proximity to Center City, yet it has a distinct and unique neighborhood-feel. And the neighbor's interests and active pursuits to improve is tremendous.

What do you think needs improvement in the neighborhood?

I hear often about the need to improve the neighborhood's cleanliness and overall safety/security. Enhancing the reputation and appearance as a great place to live, work, dine, and socialize would be an improvement.

Tell us a little about yourself—how long have you lived in the neighborhood and what would make you a good board member:

In Nov. 2018, I became the President/CEO at Sunday Breakfast Rescue Mission, moving here from Fort Lauderdale, FL. I immediately sought to live here myself in the Neighborhood, and although I found an apartment in Old City, I'd love to live here in Callowhill someday soon. As a board member, I seek to elevate the Mission as a 'good neighbor' as we serve Philadelphia's homeless, hungry and hurting. Naturally, we at the Mission didn't create homelessness, yet we wish to continue to be viewed by our neighbors here in Callowhill as a SOLUTION to addressing it. Becoming a board member allows the Association to intentionally and strategically work together with us here at the Mission to address and hopefully eradicate homelessness in this neighborhood. And also increasing volunteer opportunities and crafting strategic initiatives together with the Association to actively engage with our efforts would be a joyful venture for me.
