What do you like most about the neighborhood?

I have recently begun to work in the neighborhood as the Development Director at Asian Arts Initiative. I have quickly grown fond of the neighboring businesses, organizations, people and landscape. I have resided in a few different neighborhoods in Philadelphia at different stages of development. I find it exciting to be a part of a changing urban landscape that has so many exciting projects going on like our Pearl Street project, the PHS pop up garden, and the Rail Park.

What do you think needs improvement in the neighborhood?

An area that I would enjoy working on is a partnership with the catchment public elementary school. I am a parent of a public school student and this is an area of particular interest to me personally. We also have a Youth Arts Workshop at Asian Arts Initiative which might eventually be a partner of the neighborhood school.

Tell us a little about yourself—how long have you lived in the neighborhood and why would you make a good board member:

I do not currently reside in the neighborhood but currently work for Asian Arts Initiative. I As a staff member of a neighborhood organization working to beautify, increase access to and generally improve our physical and cultural footprint on Callowhill North I think I would be a good asset to the CNA board.
