What do you like most about the neighborhood?

I like the pervasive industrial architecture and the history of the railroad and factories. The neighborhood has energy but is not frenetic, and is close to center city. The Rail Park opening offers new opportunities for the neighborhood.

What do you think needs improvement in the neighborhood?

There is no green space, no place for dogs, no trash cans, and few places to stop to rest, for food, drink or conversation. It's very car centric. Sidewalks are not paved or broken, and lighting under the viaducts could be improved.

Tell us a little about yourself—how long have you lived in the neighborhood and what would make you a good board member:

I moved to Philadelphia about 3½ years ago from New York City, and have been in Callowhill for the last year. I'm interested in transportation, public spaces, architecture, and sustainability. I believe I would be a good board member because I am committed to supporting neighborhoods and have substantial experience in implementing forward-looking programs. As a board member for a non-profit theater arts organization, I was involved with developing a strategic plan, acted as treasurer, and worked to expand the board. Professionally, I worked with many parties to conduct analysis, resolve legal issues, clarify technical requirements, and conclude negotiations. Since arriving in Philadelphia, I've become the organizer of a community garden in Hawthorne, now applying for inclusion in the portfolio of the Neighborhood Gardens Trust. The Callowhill neighborhood will experience rapid changes in the next several years and I'd like to be involved with that process. I'd like to have a role in reviewing land use, zoning, parking, bike lanes, street maintenance, green space, safety and responsible development. I have time, experience and energy to be on the CNA board. Thank you for considering my application.
